is a fun game for toddlers and preschoolers to help them learn to count, as well as identify the letters of the alphabet. The original concept of the game was designed by internationally acclaimed game developer R&R Productions in 2001 as a way to introduce children to numbers. The updated version now contains 4 different themes, each with different illustrations and visual effects to help make the learning even more enjoyable. Also includes a new target mode for younger players and more colorful and interactive icons to help make learning to count fun and easy. Now you can even pause the game whenever you like and when you start it again, it resumes where you left off.
